

A New Kingdom Dawns

Jay D Weaver

Thomas Ravenscroft 1621

Let jus - tice roll down, a great wa - ter - fall. In The maid - en was told she would bear a king. The He stood midst the crowd and she would bear a king. Good They called him a of king, and and o - pened the scroll. Yet Oh, chil - dren of God, a - wake and a - rise. Al - right - eous - ness, come to flow ov - er all. The hun - gry to, fill with ev' - ry good thing. He news for the poor, the sick are made whole. The he ruled with the love in the spine of their the read - y the morn - ing star greets the skies. The peo - ple cry out in their pain and de - spair. Our will bring the low - ly a spark - ling new - day. The deaf ear will o - pen; the blind eye new will see. Op - King comes to all and in jus - tice will reign. A new day is dawn - ing, dis - pell - ing the night. We

A

God won't for - get rich - he'll send calls us to care.
might - y and im - pris - oned will then emp - ty a - way.
pressed new King - dom birthed out of sor - row be set free.
look to his com - ing; when all be - comes and pain.
bright.